

Sebastian Brenner

Sebastian Brenner was born in Cologne, Germany, in 1982. In 2002 he joined Bayer AG's management trainee program including a commercial apprenticeship, a degree in business administration and an MBA at Nanyang University in Singapore.

From 2010 to 2014, Sebastian Brenner worked in Basel, Switzerland as global business manager for Syngenta AG with global responsibility for marketing of a significant portfolio of herbicides. In 2014 he joined Bayer CropScience as global marketing manager with responsibility for pricing and distribution management.

In May 2018, he became Managing Director of CheMondis GmbH, which is by now the largest and fastest growing online B2B marketplace for industrial Chemicals in the western world. Brenner led the corporate venture from concept to realization, formed the legal entity, team and product.

Brenner is married and has three children.